Next steps for REF? We need to repair the sector's health first

Blog Post by Julie Bayley, March 2021

This blog post gives a whistle stop tour of some of the current issues intersecting REF and Impact in the Higher Education Research Culture.

Top takeaways:

- The discord in rhetoric between ‘impact matters’ and ‘only if it’s big’
- Outlines the many consequences of short termist REF framed approaches
- Excellent ‘read the room’ guide on the tensions, as well as recommendations for change
